"The Joy..." is a joy!

By Scientist, too

Joy Nevin hits it out of the park with this intimate and wise reflection on the post-retirement years with husband, John. No topic is off-limits, and no topic is too sacred to be explored. Joy's wisdom comes from the "school of life" and the prism with which she views that life. She is fundamentally optimistic, but that optimism is undergirded by blunt, clear-eyed realism. Joy has an uncanny ability to retrieve the nuggets of truth embedded in every experience. For that reason (and the endearing stories about Joy's mother), The Joy of Retirement is worth reading! If you are a senior or a baby boomer on the precipice of the senior years, reading "The Joy.." will inspire and challenge you.

A joyful account where the author captures the full joy of living - even into the later years - on every page. Even those who feel "too old to change" will be inspired to alter their attitude, live fully, love more, and learn daily. So much truth, wisdom, insight, and humor resonate from the author's words and descriptions, and her peppering of quotes and sayings enrich the many valid points. All ages need to read this book -and reread as retirement approaches! Much can be gained from the author's experiences, understanding of others' experiences, and the importance of proper preparation. Thanks to Joy Nevin for sharing her insights!
